February 2018

The story of Jewish ties to the Caribbean is a fascinating one, dating back to Christopher Columbus and his first trans-Atlantic voyage. Home to some of the oldest Jewish communities in the Americas, the Caribbean also lays claim to synagogues with sandy floors, cemeteries that date back hundreds of years and Jewish families who still call the islands home. Join WUPJ for a relaxing and historically stimulating trip to the Islands, featuring Jewish music, shared song and prayer, featuring Josh Nelson, visit fortifications, museums and cathedrals throughout the city. Be certain to stop at the magnificent Holocaust memorial designed by Michael & Bonnie Berkoviks and located just a few blocks from the port. Transfer (on own) to the port.
